About Mesa County

Mesa County, located in western Colorado, is a unique and resource-rich area that boasts approximately 74% public lands. These lands include expansive tracts managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), U.S. Forest Service, and other federal and state entities. The county has a long-standing tradition of professional and collaborative communication with federal agencies to ensure effective stewardship of these lands.

Mesa County actively works with the BLM and other federal partners to address land-use planning, wildfire mitigation, grazing rights, recreational access, and mineral development. As a public lands delegate, I will prioritize Colorado County's voice in policies that affect these lands and the livelihoods connected to them.

Sincerely,
